TWO FOOTBALL GAMES PROMISE TO BE CLOSE AND HARD FOUGHT

(By Associated Press)

New York, Nov. 8.—Two games stand out on the Eastern football schedule of the morning as giving promise of being close, hard fought contests. These are the meeting of Pennsylvania and Dartmouth at Boston and the Pittsburgh-Washington and Jefferson struggle at Pittsburgh. In other respects the Saturday list of gridiron combats is not likely to be productive of either form or score upsets.

Judged upon their season records Dartmouth and Pennsylvania appear to be reasonably evenly matched and the outcome is likely to be a small margin victory for the eleven which is at more alert and quicker to take advantage of the breaks in the play. Last season the teams of these two colleges played a 7 to 7 tie, but this fact has little bearing upon the result of tomorrow's contests as very few of the men who participated in that struggle are now wearing moleskins. The Quakers have played seven games to date winning five and being defeated by Pittsburgh and Georgia Tech. Dartmouth has won all six games scheduled thus far this season, the defeats of West Virginia and Penn. State being the outstanding features.

The record of the University of Pittsburgh eleven is more impressive than that of Washington and Jefferson but the latter combination is one of great strength and has been especially pointed for this struggle. It is certain that the smaller college team will give the Panthers the hardest kind of a gridiron battle before they will admit defeat. In their game of a year ago Pittsburgh won from Washington and Jefferson by a score of 37 to 0, but it is doubtful if the present teams will duplicate these figures.

In the other games of the day in which the more prominent eleven of the section are scheduled to participate the outcome appears to be more a question of scores than victory or defeat. Both the Army and Navy teams should win from their respective opponents, Carlisle Indians and Georgetown. Rutgers appears to have the edge on the Springfield Y. M. C. A. Training School eleven although the latter combination is exceedingly proficient in the use of the forward pass. In all its variations, Colgate should win, at Providence, R. I.

win from St. Bonaventure but both Syracuse and Swarthmore will find Bucknell and Lafayette, respectively, more difficult to subdue.

The principal games of the day, together with the scores where the same institutions met a year ago, are as follows:

Boston Col. vs. Holy Cross, at Worcester, Mass. (17 to 14); Colgate vs. St. Bonaventure, at Hamilton, N. Y. (did not meet); Columbia vs. Hobart, at New York (did not meet); Dickinson vs. Frank & Marsh, at Carlisle, Pa. (13 to 7); Gettysburg vs. Mt. St. Mary's, at Gettysburg, Pa. (did not meet); Johns Hopkins vs. Western Maryland, at Baltimore, (21 to 0); Muhlenberg vs. Albright, at Allentown, Pa. (43 to 0); N. Y. University vs. Trinity, at New York, (did not meet); Penn. Military College vs. Washington College, at Chester, Pa. (17 to 0); Penn. State vs. Lehigh, at State College, Pa. (10 to 7); Phillips Exeter vs. Dartmouth Freshmen, at Exeter, (3 to 14); Stevens vs. Delaware, at Hoboken, N. J. (0 to 5); Susquehanna vs. Villanova, at Shamokin, Pa. (did not meet); Lafayette vs. Swarthmore, at Swarthmore, Pa. (6 to 10); Syracuse vs. Bucknell, at Syracuse, (did not meet); Tufts vs. Colby, at Medford, Mass. (did not meet); Union vs. Rensselaer Poly., at Schenectady, N. Y. (45 to 0); Army vs. Carlisle Indians, at West Point, (did not meet); Navy vs. Georgetown, at Annapolis, (13 to 7); University of Penn. vs. Dartmouth, at Boston, (7 to 7); University of Pittsburgh vs. Wash. & Jeff. at Pittsburgh, Pa. (37 to 0); University of Rochester vs. Wesleyan, at Rochester, N. Y. (did not meet); Williams vs. Middlebury, at Williamstown, Mass. (did not meet); Rutgers vs. Springfield T. First Americans to Die for America in the Trenches.

PRIVATE THOMAS F. ENRIGHT

PRIVATE JAMES B. GRESHAM

PRIVATE JAMES B. GRESHAM

The three first young Americans to die for America in the trenches in France were Merle D. Hay of Glendon, Ia.; James B. Gresham of Evansville, Ind., where there is a large German population, and Thomas F. Enright of Pittsburgh. It is believed they were at the town of Parroy, where the Rhine-Marne Canal intersects the battle line, a place very near the German boundary. Hay, who was a farmer at Glendon, enlisted in the army May 10. He leaves a mother and father and sister and brother. Gresham's home was in Evansville, where he leaves a mother. She broke down when told of his death. Enright enlisted in the army eight years ago. He was in the Sixteenth Infantry when he went to France with the Pershing forces.

Services at the First M. E. church next Sunday will be held at the usual hours. Preaching by the pastor, Rev. B. F. Wentworth, at 10:45 a. m., on Acts 1:10-11, "The Second Coming of Christ"; the Sunday school will hold its service at 12:05; in the evening at 7:30, the subject will be "Extracts from the Life of John Wesley." Both services will be held downstairs on account of the approaching winter. The campaigns for the conservation of food among the people of the parish has been started and is well under way, with good results.

Word was received this morning of the death of Leon Webber in Manchester, of pneumonia. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Webber of Stinson street and had been employed in Manchester a little over a year. Besides his parents he leaves three brothers and two sisters.

EXETER

Exeter, Nov. 8.—Twenty-eight western hoppers are roaming the country lands west of Rockingham Junction in the vicinity of Ash Swamp and the Leo road as the result of a genuine western stampede there yesterday morning. The hoppers caused much excitement during their flight. A car load of them came in from the West for the Jameson farm at Antrim, the car being set off at Rockingham but as the demurrage period expired it was found necessary to remove them to some neighboring pasture temporarily to wait for another car. Those engaged in making the removal were not vered in cow boy style of using the lasso, and the animals took advantage of it. There was a wild stampede for the country but many were captured during the day, and late this afternoon only 28 were missing.

The rummage sale which closed Wednesday evening brought the sum of $450 which will be used for the purpose of purchasing yarn for knitting for the Red Cross. Most of the goods were disposed of during the afternoon and evening, and the auction sale by Albert J. Weeks, and Marc S. Brooks later in the evening disposed of many more. Much clothing left over was packed, and will be sent to the French.

Rev. Joseph N. Haskell of Fiske university of Memphis, Tenn., who preached at the First Congregational church last Sunday, will again occupy the pulpit there next Sunday.

The East Side Current Events Club met yesterday afternoon with Mrs. Augustus W. Young on High street. The Friendly class of the Baptist church met Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. C. V. Rollins on Main street.

Senator Clarence M. Collins of Danville was an Exeter visitor at the meeting of the Y. M. C. A. war fund drive.

Rev. O. W. Townes of Haverhill, Mass., will preach at the Baptist church next Sunday.

The total amount raised for the Y. M. C. A. war fund by the students of the academy now amounts to $1,650, this being from the entire student body of 572 students with the exception of 26 who have not yet been heard from but every boy has contributed at least some amount, many sacrificing their allowances which were spent on clothes and other luxuries.

Congressman (Sherman) E. Burroughs of Manchester, spoke to the students of the Exeter high school at noon yesterday, previous to addressing the Y. M. C. A. war fund meeting.

E. Curtis Matthews has been appointed chairman of the young men's division of the Y. M. C. A. by Secretary Hughes of Rockingham County. The boys meet at the Y. M. C. A. on Friday evening.

FEW BUILDINGS REMAIN INTACT IN ARRAS

(By Associated Press)
Arras, France, Nov. 8.—Only 229 buildings of a former total of 4521 remain intact in Arras. During two and a half years of more or less bombardment, 952 buildings were completely demolished, 1595 were damaged beyond repair, while 1376 only can be made inhabitable without rebuilding from the ground.

Clear, Peachy Skin Awaits Anyone Who Drinks Hot Water

Says an inside bath, before breakfast helps us look and feel clean, sweet, fresh.

Sparkling and vivacious—merry, bright, alert—a good clear skin, and a natural, rosy, healthy complexion are secured only by pure blood. If only every woman could be induced to adopt the morning inside bath, what a gratifying change would take place. Instead of the thousands of sickly, anaemic-looking men, women and girls, with pasty or muddy complexions; instead of the multitudes of "nervous wrecks," "rundowns," "brain fags" and pessimists we should see a virile, optimistic throng of rosy-cheeked people everywhere.

An inside bath is had by drinking each morning before breakfast a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, to wash from the stomach, liver and kidneys and ten yards of bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour fermentation and poisons, thus cleansing, sweetening and freshening the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

Those subject to sick headache, biliousness, nasty breath, rheumatism, colds, and particularly those who have a pallid, sallow complexion, and who are constipated very often, are urged to obtain a quarter pound of limestone phosphate at the drug store which will cost but a trifle, but is sufficient to demonstrate the quick and remarkable change in both health and appearance, awaiting those who practice internal sanitation. We must remember that inside cleanliness is more important than outside, because the skin does not absorb impurities to contaminate the blood while the pores, in the thirty feet of bowels do.

ARMY SURGERY HAS ADVANCED RAPIDLY SINCE BEGINNING OF WAR

(By Associated Press)

Behind the British Lines in France, Nov. 8.—The American doctors who are now at work in various parts of the British front find that army surgery has advanced just as rapidly since the beginning of the war as any other branch of war's activity. In the early days of the war wounds were of an average gravity far beyond that expected from the experience of previous wars, while tetanus, gas gangrene and severe suppuration, were general and hundreds died of comparatively trivial injuries for lack of early and adequate treatment.

This situation has now been altered almost beyond recognition. Serum treatment has almost done away with the tetanus, while earlier and more energetic surgical treatment has largely defeated gas gangrene. More and more of the major surgical work is being carried out in the casualty clearing stations and some of the more famous of the American surgeons have spent most of their time since their arrival in advanced hospitals within sound of the German guns.

The key to the whole improvement in surgical results has been the pushing of the surgeon nearer and nearer to the fighting lines. The enemy has endeavored to counter this by constant bombing of the advanced hospitals, but the saving of life is worth more than the loss of life, and suitable defensive measures are being taken.

The doctor, as distinguished from the surgeon, has also accomplished wonders in this war. The small mortality from disease in the British and French armies is due to this persistent vigilance. His two great weapons have been sanitation and prophylactic inoculation. In a scene of unparalleled confusion and in an area of quite primitive sanitation, his exertions have resulted in an astonishing degree sanitary efficiency. Refuse is destroyed or deeply buried; battlefields in many cases are cleaned up within a few days; pure water supplies are provided. Everywhere behind the immediate front, order and cleanliness are the rule.

The rule of the army medical officer is not always welcomed by the inhabit-

RUSSIA IN CONTROL OF VERY EXTREME RADICALS

(By Associated Press) Petrograd is again in a turmoil and the temporary government has been overthrown and Nicolai Lemine is in power, while Premier Kerensky has fled the capital and an order for his arrest has been issued, while several of the members of his cabinet are under arrest.

The winter palace has been bombarded by guns of the Russian cruiser Aurora and the guns of the St. Peter and Paul fortress.

A Congress of the Workmen and Soldiers have convened here and they will discuss peace and war measures. A committee has been appointed to get in touch with the other revolutionary bodies and try and make some plans for peace to end the blood shed.

Reports of the whereabouts of Premier Kerensky varied. Some say that he has gone to the front to join the troops. The Cossacks, the strongest military forces, have stated that they are prepared to support the most conservative government, but on the other hand the forces in the Black Sea naval stations are said to have cast their lots with the radicals.

The government forces holding the winter palace have surrendered under the bombardment of the cruiser Aurora and the guns of the fortress St. Peter and Paul from across the Neva. The women's battalion who were defending the palace surrendered when it was apparent that there was no hope of outside aid.

The last seen of Kerensky was at Jurga about eighty-five miles south of Petrograd late yesterday.

The battle about the Winter Palace was spectacular. The cruiser Aurora has moved up the river until the palace was within range and she then opened with shells, the palace standing out a good target under the glare of the ships search lights. The guns on the fortress St. Peter and Paul also added their fire, while from the palace the return was made the best the defenders could with machine guns and small quick fire. The Workmen's committee had taken precaution to have the people driven to their quarters so that there were few casualties.

Washington, Nov. 8.—The discouragement held here over the fall of the Russian government and the control of the radicals, is tempered somewhat by the thoughts that the radicals may only be able to hold Petrograd and that the movement will not spread through the country.

Both the State Department and the Russian Ambassador were without additional information, but the impression is that the government of the radicals will be short lived. The Cossacks are known to form a nucleus of the Russian army, and with the Cossacks backing set up a new government in Moscow, they would be sure to draw in the strong men of the country.

The Cossacks are known to be in favor of any strong government which will not give quarters to the radicals.

The Bolsheviks themselves have declared that they will favor only a democratic peace which is opposed by Germany so that there is little likelihood of their being any settlement that would release the German forces from the east front.

will have been surmounted and an agreed result soon certain.

The committee is really a smaller edition of the convention, containing representatives of all the parties and including its best minds and most experienced men. Whatever it agrees to recommend is likely of adoption by the convention. Several references have been made in public speeches of members of the convention to its work. They have come from "Ulster men," Southern Unionists and Nationalists, government nominees and county councilors. They have all been sanguine in tone.

The Ulster press in Belfast which is known to be in touch with some of the leading members of the convention continues quite irreconcilable, and rumors in Dublin which privately discuss the speeches at the convention as freely as if they had appeared in the newspapers, furnishes no suggestion that the Ulster men have as yet agreed to a plan of settlement.

Unlike the Nationalists, the Ulster delegates are bound to consult their organization outside and a meeting has been held between the delegates and the advisory committee appointed by the Ulster Unionist Council at which a full discussion of the situation took place. During his recent visit to London, Sir Horace Plunkett saw the prime minister and it is supposed informed him of the prospects of the convention. Sir Horace remains very hopeful of a successful result.

ITALIANS STILL RETREATING

(By Associated Press) There has been no cessation of the retreat of the Italians across the Venetian Plains to the new line prepared for the defense against the Austrian German forces.

The larger units are falling back without being molested according to the Rome communication but there is considerable fighting going on in the hilly country at Vittorio where the Germans are pressing the Italians.

Berlin announced that in the middle Tagliamento the Italians who were standing out were captured. A General and 17,000 men were taken, this increasing the total prisoners taken in this great drive to 250,000 and 2300 guns according to Berlin.

Along the French and Belgium fronts military duels and raids have been the only activity.

Additional ground has been taken by the British in Palestine around the Tigris and the Turks have been defeated in all engagements.

STRIKERS HOLDING UP WORK

Boston, Nov. 8.—Strikers today continued to make it uncomfortable for officers of the Navy, who are trying their best to finish the emergency hospital on the grounds of the Naval Hospital at Chelsea, and the large new storehouse for supplies at the Charlestown navy yard. They did not bother the officers by direct interference—only by remaining away and tying up the work completely at both places, despite the urgent need, which is claimed to be perfectly apparent to anyone.

At the hospital it was said that practically no work was being done on the emergency buildings, which had been ordered completed early in January, and which will enlarge the hospital's capacity from 150 to 300 patients. The present buildings are overcrowded, as might be expected from the Navy personnel being expanded within a few months from 65,000 to about 250,000 officers and men. No one can tell when the wounded from Europe will begin to arrive, and the hospital staff is expecting any time to receive an order to take care of a large number of men.

Even now it has been found necessary to send men to the Boston City Hospital, the United States Marine Hospital, St. Elizabeth's Hospital and private institutions, the present buildings are so crowded with patients, but despite this fact, it was said today, men have quit work without even informing them what was the trouble and without presenting any "demands" for more pay or shorter hours or whatever they may have in mind.

At the navy yard, there was no change in the situation with reference to building the new storehouse, the contract for which calls for about $600,000 and which will be the largest building in the yard. Some of the workmen desired to keep at their jobs but could not because the strike by others tied them up. Of course, this work is being done under the requirements of the eight-hour law governing all work in navy yards.

PERSHING AID KILLS HIMSELF

Washington, Nov. 8.—Major Birdseye B. Lewis, attached to General Pershing's staff whose death was previously reported to relatives in private cables, committed suicide last Saturday. The war department was so advised today by General Pershing in a message giving no details.

Major Lewis who was 29 years of age is survived by his widow a daughter of Oakleigh Thorne, New York capitalist.

The deaths of one non-commissioned officer and three enlisted men attached to the expeditionary force also were reported today by General Pershing. Two died from accidental wounds and two from natural causes.

Sergeant Carl C. Taylor, Infantry, died October 27 from a gunshot wound, believed to have been suffered accidentally. His next of kin is his father, Chester O. Taylor, Dover, N. H.

FEARS BRITISH "FIRE ROLLER"

Copenhagen, Nov. 8.—Unwilling testimony of the force of the British offensive in Flanders is given by Lt. Gen. von Ardenne, the military critic of the Tageblatt of Berlin, who sends from the Flanders front a graphic picture of the difficulties of the German defense. No way, he says, has been devised to prevent the "fire roller," as the Germans term the moving barrage from making new and steady gains. He reports the German losses as very heavy if an attempt is made to hold the front line trenches in force, while a thin line adds to the speed of the British advance.

"The sufferings of the defenders in the front line," Gen. von Ardenne writes, "composed of shell holes almost filled with water, are such that the men must be relieved every two days, instead of every week or ten days, as last year. The infantry now spends two days on the firing line, two in support and two in reserve until relieved."

The German artillery is so numerically inferior to the British that it is seldom relieved and as it cannot dig in, owing to the boggy terrain, it must fire without cover. The conditions in the shell holes are such that men falling into the centre of them are lost unless assisted. Horses breaking into the morass are shot, because it is impossible to extricate them. German counter-attacks can traverse the fire roller only by small detachments in single file. The loss is slight if the manœuvre succeeds. Otherwise—

DARTMOUTH STUDENTS ARE DECORATED

According to Richard L. Cooley '18 of Newtonville and Philip K. Watson '19 of Somerville, who have just returned to this country after several months' service in the ambulance work, six Dartmouth men have won the Croix de Guerre for bravery under fire, four of them receiving bad wounds.

Of these six, perhaps the most notable case is that of Paul G. Osborn '17 of Montclair, N. J., who was the first American killed after the United States declared war on Germany. Young Osborn was driving his ambulance near the firing line on the night of June 27 when he was hit by a piece of shrapnel from a bursting shell and wounded so that he died three days later at the base hospital to which he was taken.

Besides the Croix de Guerre he was awarded the Palm and the Medaille Militaire, the latter being the highest honor the French government can confer.

James R. Milne, '20, of Dorchester, was with Osborn on the fateful night, and when the shell exploded he was bounding over to crank the machine. He was wounded by the flying pieces and received the cross for this reason.

Charles W. Isbell '18, of North Adams received his wound one evening while trying to rescue some of the wounded men near a battery which was receiving heavy shell fire from the Germans. Although the stunt was practically impossible Isbell went out without a murmur and on his way back he was hit in the foot. He was cited for bravery by the artillerymen instead of the ambulance commander as is usually the case.

Russell H. Potter, '19, of Buffalo, N. Y., and Gordon Bartlett, '20, of Peabody, R. I., both received their medals for bravery in removing the wounded under fire.

C. M. Ashton, Jr., '20, of Philadelphia, was standing on the running board of his machine looking for shell holes one day, when pieces of "shells" came in through the back of the car, passing out the front. Some of the pieces entered his shoulder, narrowly missing his spine. He was also hit in the foot so badly that the doctors found it necessary to remove two toes. An X-ray taken in Paris showed that his shoulder had been broken and had never been set, so that now he will have to have that done as soon as he gets back home, and there are chances that he will never be able to use his arm again.

HEAVY SENTENCE FOR STRIKING AN OFFICER

Ayer, Mass., Nov. 8.—Frank Keenan, a former prize fighter of Bridgeport, Conn., and Nicholas Costello of Waterbury, Conn., members of the drafted army at Camp Devens, were sentenced today by a general court-martial to ten and twenty years, respectively, in Federal prison for assaulting Carl E. Krug of Waterbury, corporal of the guard on the night of Oct. 13.

The conviction of the men met with general approbation because of the brutal nature of the attack on the corporal, and Major General Harry F. Hodges, commanding, issued orders that the sentence be read to every company at retreat tonight. General Hodges said it was the first serious breach of discipline here, and he wanted it impressed upon the 36,000 soldiers at Camp Devens that severe punishment would be dealt all offenders in similar cases.

Costello was ordered committed to Women! Keep It On Dresser!

Never Let Corns Ache Twice

Instantly! Few drops stop corn-soreness, then corns and calluses shrivel, loosen and lift out with fingers—No pain!

The world owes thanks to the genius in Cincinnati who discovered Frezzone.

Thy bottles of the magic fluid can now be had at any drug store for a few cents. You simply apply a few drops of this Frezzone upon a tender, aching corn or a hardened callus. Instantly the soreness disappears and shortly you will find the corn or callus so loose and shriveled that you lift it off with the fingers. Not a bit of pain or soreness is felt when applying Frezzone or afterwards. It doesn't even irritate the skin or flesh.

For a few cents one can now get rid of every hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes, as well as painful calluses on bottom of feet without any pain. Ladies! Keep it on the dresser.

RULES ISSUED FOR HUSBANDING FOOD SUPPLY IN ENGLAND

(By Associated Press) London, Nov. 8.—England must husband her food supply if her people expect America to economize in food for their sakes, it is to be the plea of a "League of National Safety" that soon will be launched from the headquarters of the Director-General of National Economy. Members of the league will be advised that the people of the United States cannot be expected to save food for the benefit of England unless they are convinced that the British people are in earnest in adhering to a food ration. "Visitors returning to America from here should have no reason to report anything 'approaching scenes of luxury or extravagance,'" is the warning issued by the members of the league.

The members are urged to observe the following rules:

Fresh meat to be served only once a day. No second helpings. Roast meat to be avoided as much as possible; it is wasteful.

Bread with the mid-day meal only if specially asked for. One slice less a day to be eaten.

One "potato day" a week to be as nearly as possible a breadless day. No butter with bread and jam. Never more than one egg per head at any meal.

No early morning cup of tea. The open sugar bowl at table to be abolished.

The league will make a special appeal to those whose wages or incomes have been increased by the war.

ORDERS AMERICANS NOT TO BRING WIVES TO FOREIGN WATERS

(By Associated Press) Base American Flotilla in British Waters, Nov. 8.—An order to the American naval officers and men not to bring their wives from the United States has just been issued by the commanding officer of the United States destroyer flotilla operating in European waters. It reads:

"The force commander is of the opinion that it would be very inadvisable for any officers or men of the naval force in European waters to cause their wives to take passage for Europe."

Two American naval officers succeeded in getting their wives to join them before the order was issued. Both were married in April. The next month their husbands received orders to sail for Europe. One wife came from Philadelphia and the other from Boston.

Those responsible for the prohibition justify it on the grounds of efficiency. One American naval officer of high rank said:

"We must get the maximum of efficiency out of our officers and men. They must be untethered to so where they are sent at any time. We cannot have their wives following them all around from one base to another. It may look hard to the thousands of young wives of our naval men but they must remember that this is war and they are better off back home where they can be of more use to the nation."

The Federal prison at Atlanta, Keenan will be sent to the Army Prison on Governor's Island. The court also ordered that the prisoners be dishonorably discharged from the army.

Returning to camp late at night, Costello and Keenan were halted by Krug, who was knocked down, clubbed and rendered unconscious. When officers and men went to his assistance there was trouble in subduing the offenders, who were convicted also of insubordination. Both were members of Company H, 30th Infantry. Krug was corporal of Company G of the same organization.

NO HOPES FOR RUSSIA WITH RADICALS

(By Associated Press) London, Nov. 8.—The prize court has recently condemned as a lawful prize a consignment of 228,000 pounds of rubber, shipped from New York to Swedish ports.

RACE RIOT AVERTED

(By Associated Press) Montgomery, Ala., Nov. 8.—Quick work on the part of the military police coupled with the determination of Major Fulton, the commander of the 9th battalion, Ohio National Guard colored, saved a race riot today, when some negroes became excited over the report that part of their command had been taken by a mob.

The trouble started when Jim Long, a chauffeur, ran into a white woman and a crowd gathered. The military police rushed to the center of the disturbance and sent back to the camp under guard seventy soldiers.

MUCH SPECULATION AS TO MEETINGS OF GRAND COMMITTEE

(By Associated Press) Dublin, Nov. 8.—There is much speculation in Dublin as to the meetings of the grand committee of the Irish convention which are taking place in Trinity college. It is expected that the committee soon will report to the convention and by then it should be possible to form a definite guess as to whether the convention can accomplish the work entrusted to it.

The convention having debated at large with a very free interchange of views, the various aspects of the Irish question, directed its grand committee to attempt to evolve a plan for submission to the general body. If the committee can do that, the difficulty

RED CROSS IN NEW HOME

The work room committee of the Red Cross on Thursday took possession of the second floor of the Elks' Home which they will use this winter for the work and they found everything comfortable. The officers of the Elks were very cordial and are making every effort to furnish every means to carry on this great work.

Mrs. Arthur H. Locke, the chairman of the work committee, announced that the work days would be Monday and Thursday from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m. Monday will be devoted to surgical dressings and Thursday to sewing.

Mrs. Locke has also received a letter from Capt. Bodwell acknowledging the arrival of the sweaters for the men of his command and he expressed his and the company's most heartfelt thanks for the kind gift. He said that they would be greatly appreciated by the men as the weather was getting cold and need of additional clothing was becoming apparent.

The Fly in the Ointment.

There is too much labor trouble in this country. Strikes or threatened strikes are of almost daily occurrence all the way from the Atlantic to the Pacific, and industries turning out war materials for the government are not immune from these disturbances. There are troubles in shipyards, troubles on the railroads and troubles in the coal fields which directly affect the government; to say nothing of those in the ordinary industries which serve to disrupt business at a time when every cog and wheel in the industries of the United States should be moving without a hitch.

This condition of things does not fit in well with the loud professions of patriotism that are heard in every quarter. Everybody claims to be patriotic, but it is very far from patriotic to interfere with the work of production at a time like this, particularly with the production of those things which enter directly into the prosecution of the war.

In the Southwestern coal fields there is now a condition which leads the government to contemplate and threaten the most drastic action. Blame for this trouble is charged up to the leaders of the miners' unions, where it undoubtedly rests. All are familiar with the demands of the railroad men, the granting of which would add a heavy burden to the roads, and there are other troubles in the labor world such as should not be known when the country is face to face with the most serious problem it ever confronted. This condition was roundly and justly scored a few days ago by a New England woman speaking in Ohio. "Our opportunity," she declared, "Why should we who stay at home allow 25,000 or 50,000 men to strike and prevent the building of ships, others to hold up the working of mines, and still others to impede the carrying on of industries which were never more virtually necessary to the government?"

The condition is inexcusable and should be eliminated at once. The cost of living is high, but so are wages, and there should not be another strike in this country during the period of the war. Differences are liable to arise between employers and employees even in time of war, but these should be adjusted without recourse to the strike, and if all were as fair-minded and patriotic as they profess to be there would be less commotion in the industrial field.

The people of this country, including the labor unions, must understand that the nation is facing a crisis of the most treacherous hand in hand. It is a time when all classes should remember the slogan, "America First," when all should place the national welfare above their personal interests and pull together for the victory that is bound to come, but which will be deferred at tremendous cost if large numbers of workers are resolved not to do all in their power to aid in pushing the war, but to see how much they can get out of it.

The laying of the keel of the first government cargo-carrying ship to be built at Newington is under way. When that shipyard was opened this paper reminded its readers that the enterprise meant much to this city in an industrial way, a fact which is now more generally realized than it was at the beginning.

A hale and beloved old member of the Portsmouth Federal Fire Society is Dr. James R. May, and the members showed their appreciation of him and his services most appropriately at a recent meeting of the association, whose beginning dates back to the 18th century.

The people of Portsmouth are adjusting themselves readily to the new tax schedule and there is little confusion. The burden of the war must be borne by all, and for the most part the people are assuming it bravely and cheerfully, here and elsewhere.

It is good news that the vacant plant of the New Castle Shoe Company is to be occupied by the Brooks Motor Company, which is to establish a branch of its business there. The present year has been a good year for Portsmouth, and the end is not yet.

When the governor of Wisconsin calls for one beerless day a week, and would make that day Sunday, he can hardly be charged with attempting to curry favor with the German vote.

With other cities Portsmouth is feeling the sugar shortage keenly. The only comforting thought is that the duration of the shortage is likely to be short.

The elements have been giving considerable attention to the New England coast of late, and there is a general hope that the last "equinoctial" for this season is past.

PEOPLES' OPINIONS.

Editor:

Under the date of November 8th there was a protest by an Old Time Resident of Kittery, published in a local paper, concerning our new fire signals.

I, myself, an old time resident, fall utterly to see what this protest can be based on. Kittery now has a modern department with modern apparatus equal to any its size in the state. I have lived close to the location of the siren alarm with my family, since it was installed and we felt to find it in "poisly nuisance" as our neighbor has termed it. We consider the signal system of great benefit in summoning the firemen and letting the residents know the location.

It is quite absurd to state that the new siren should be thrown away and the old system reinstated, when a jumble of bells sounding everywhere made the alarm complicated. Also the blowing of the whistle at the end of Kittery Point, on the Atlantic Shore line power plant, was often another source of complication.

Our modern department is now running without expense, or very little. There is very little cost in maintaining it.

As the firemen of Kittery are not obliged to wait until the siren stops blowing before they can start for the box, why not have something modern, so the people can hear it. I find no one but can count the alarm and are pleased with the signal system.

If we are going to have a modern town we want modern fire signal above all other things.

ANOTHER OLD TIME RESIDENT, Kittery, Me., Nov. 9, 1917.

Want Grass Removed

The fire on the Post road today should be a warning to people that have been so careless to allow standing grass on their property. The fact that they were unable to get the grass cut during the summer does not excuse them. At this late day from the danger caused by the dry hay crop being still on their land and exposed to fire. In my opinion such people are liable in case of fire for such damage as may result from standing grass. In every case it should be disposed of and the owners will do well to remove the dead crop before it is too late.

DEATH OF WELL KNOWN ARTIST

(By Associated Press)

Dublin, Nov. 8.—The death has occurred here of Nathaniel Hone, 86 years old, a well known artist and a native of Dublin. He went to Paris in 1853 and studied painting under Yvon and Couture. He lived in France for 20 years returning to Ireland on succeeding to considerable property. Many of his important pictures are in the Dublin art galleries.

"HER UNBORN CHILD" AT THE COLONIAL

Laurette Allen, who plays the role of Mrs. Kennedy in Howard McKent Burne's play of discussion, "Her Unborn Child" which opened an engagement of twelve performances at the Colonial Theatre yesterday, gives one of the most humanely studied characterizations we have seen, in some time with an attraction known as a "Popular Priced" one. It is Laurette Allen's artistic performance that reaches into the hearts of her audiences and writings, at will, tears or laughter. It is her charming personality that leaves the stage bare when he is no longer there and it is her wonderful performance that causes the prediction that never shall there be a mother role better essayed than that of hers of yesterday.

An old school physician, one of those kindly, dignified and honest gentlemen who is not in sympathy with the idea of birth control, is one of the characters in "Her Unborn Child" a drama of discussion, dealing with the subject of birth control, written by Howard McKent Burne, a brilliant young American author.

It is through this character that the author of "Her Unborn Child" delivers an indictment against the theorists who seek to better the social and industrial conditions of the world by the regulation of child birth.

Through the physician of this play, Mr. Burne tells the truth about birth control and points the way out to a misguided young couple who go to him for help. Felice Kennedy is loved by Fred Livingstone. They were to have been married, in fact, were almost at the minister's door, when the boy receives a telegram from his aunt with whom he lives, calling him away from his bride to be.

Before the wedding plans are completed he takes a trip to Europe and when he returns he finds his sweetheart in tears. He takes her to the old physician who had brought her into the world. Ted wants to marry the girl, but his aunt who objects to the marriage has told him that he is a nameless foundling and for that reason he seeks for his sweetheart the other way out.

Ted's aunt goes with him and Felice to the physician's office to plead with the doctor. The girl is against the plan but in desperation consents to see the physician. The latter makes the aunt tell the truth and shows the bewildered young people the right step to take.

In writing "Her Unborn Child" Mr. Burne tells a dramatic story full of human interest. There are heart throbs and a punch in his play which is bound to teach a never to be forgotten moral lesson.

REPORT THAT KERENSKY HAS BEEN ARRESTED

Amsterdam, Nov. 9.—Telegraphic dispatches from Stockholm, state that a German newspaper printed an article today stating that Premier Kerensky had been arrested.

NAVY NOTES

Trying to Get It By Contract
It is reported that an outside firm is very active in a movement to get the navy department to have all cooping now carried on at the Portsmouth navy yard done by contract. The local navy yard officials are against any such plan and the civilian firm has made but little headway so far in the attempt to capture this line of work from local mechanics. The navy is at present rushed with work in the cooper shop and several more men are wanted there for immediate employment.

Waiting Orders.
The several officers who have been assigned to the navy yard training camp during the summer are waiting orders and expect a transfer most any hour to a new port of duty.

Put on Extra Cars.
Extra cars have been added to the workmen's train over the B. & M. to transfer the steadily increasing force of employees at the local yard.

Seven Bandsmen Promoted.
Seven of the members of the naval band at the local yard now carry the rank of first musicians, having recently been advanced by the department.

Much New Track.
Over one mile of new railroad track has been laid recently in different parts of the local yard.

Need Not Be Experienced.
The navy needs firemen and the fact that men have had no previous experience will not prevent them from getting into the service. In the call for men of this class the secretary of the navy has the following to say: "In order to provide men for the engineering force of the many vessels the navy is manning, a special effort will be made through the recruiting offices to bring in men who have not already qualified as firemen, but who would like to take up that work. All that is necessary will be for them to be able to pass an examination to show that they are physically qualified for this work, and the navy will train them after entry into the service."

NEW ALLEY RECORD

Mr. Perley Hersey put up a new record for a three string total at the Elks' alleys on Thursday evening, a record that will probably remain for some time. He opened with a string of 130, the second fell off to 103 but he came back strong with his third scoring 136 or a total of 369.

The cooks at Fort Constitution have accepted the challenge of the medical division, and they are to arrange a game at the Elks alleys as soon as possible.

ANNUAL MEETING OF EQUAL SUFFRAGE LEAGUE

Large Delegation Present and Interesting Meeting.--Burroughs and Spaulding Speakers.

There was a representative gathering of the women of the state here on Thursday at the annual state convention of the New Hampshire Equal Suffrage Association. Two sessions were held on Thursday and today the business session and election of officers will be held.

The afternoon program was held in the Women's building on Middle street and it opened with invocation by Rev. W. P. Stanley, the pastor of the Middle street Baptist church.

The delegates were welcomed by Mrs. L. H. Thayer in behalf of the local organization and women of the city and Mrs. Charles B. Bancroft of Concord made the response.

Mrs. Mary Post spoke on the New York campaign and her experience in the campaign.

Brief talks were made on the reports of the war work: Agriculture, Mrs. Andrew Felker; Thrift, Dr. Inez R. Nason; Red Cross Civilian Relief, Mrs. G. A. Hull.

Mrs. Maude Wood Park of Boston gave the principal talk of the afternoon on the work of the Congressional Committee. She is a fluent speaker and handled the subject in a most interesting manner.

The evening session was held at the North Chapel on Middle street and the speakers were: Congressman, Sherman E. Burroughs, Hon. Huntley N. Spaulding and Mrs. Mary Post and Mrs. Mary I. Wood.

Congressman Burroughs in his talk on the Federal Amendment said that the victory of Suffrage in New York would in all probability mean the adoption of the Federal Amendment at the next session of Congress. He said that the sentiment of the majority of the members of congress was for Equal Suffrage, for it was being recognized everywhere; that it was no thing more than was fair and just. He spoke of the wonderful part the women of the country were playing in the great war work and asked if they could show such energy and ability in this great national crisis, why they should not have a voice in the government of the country. He said that the victory in New York was the most wonderful thing for the cause of equal suffrage and the example of this state would be followed by other states in the union.

Mr. Spaulding, the Food Administrator of New Hampshire, gave a most interesting talk on what had been done and what was hoped to be done in this state. Mr. Spaulding spoke with a knowledge that has come from hard work in this great cause, for he has devoted all of his time and made a most thorough study of the great work. He also showed a remarkable grasp of the food situation all over the world, not only in this country but everywhere that is considered a food producer.

Mrs. Mary Post who has been in New York during the campaign told of the work of the committee and of the great success that had resulted. Mrs. Wood, who is chairman of the New Hampshire Women's Committee of National Defense, gave an outline of what work that had been done in the state and of the campaign that was now going on.

The delegates are making their headquarters at the Women's Club and all of their meals are being served there.

Y. M. C. A. FUND DRIVE AT EXETER

Congressman Burroughs Appeals to Residents of Rockingham County.

Exeter, Nov. 9.—The Rockingham county Y. M. C. A. yesterday commenced an active drive for its share of the war fund of $35,000,000 which the organization throughout the country is endeavoring to raise, and as a starter some 150 workers and representatives of Y. M. C. A. groups representing nearly every town in the county gathered in Smith hall at 12 o'clock, where they were addressed by Congressman Sherman E. Burroughs of Manchester, Col. John H. Bartlett of Portsmouth and Carroll Chase, state campaign leader for the Y. M. C. A. group.

The meeting was presided over by C. S. Bates of Exeter, chairman of the Exeter Y. M. C. A. group.

Congressman Burroughs was the first speaker and gave an eloquent address and earnest appeal to contribute to the fund.

In speaking of the fund he said in part: "We are here to face with the greatest crisis in history, while we have been resting on our oars, or burying our face in the sand, thinking the war would never come to us. We abhor war and its wickedness, but just as much as we abhor and hate it we will fight when we have to. There is enough of the spirit of John Langdon, John Stark and John A. Dix left in us so that we will fight, and we will fight till we win. We did not seek it, it was thrust upon us. But let us keep the fight over there. We don't want it any nearer, but we must furnish money, and we must furnish men. The question is can we do it before the Allies go down? Can we get our money and our men over there? Don't think we are going to lose for America has never yet lost a fight. We know we are right. We know we are sending the flower of our country—the boys for whom you have worked early and late. He is the pride of his mother's heart. Those are the boys we're sending over there. We cannot go ourselves, some of us are too old, some too young, but they are fighting the fight for us, and if we don't pay taxes now we shall have to pay them later to Berlin. And we had better pay now than pay later. Liberty has been cheap to us. It meant nothing to us; money has been our God. Now let us give something, and keep up the work of the Red Triangle, the sign of the Y. M. C. A., and let us make it known that our President and secretary of war and entire country is behind the movement."

Colonel Bartlett suggested methods of raising the necessary fund, which would amount to 75 cents per person, or about $4,500 in Exeter and $10,000 in Portsmouth, while many of the smaller towns would not be required to raise but small sums. He suggested that Sunday night of next week be selected as rally night when meetings be held in each town.

In speaking of the war Colonel Bartlett said that the Italians were now on the retreat because they had been discouraged and had no Y. M. C. A. workers or Red Triangle to encourage them during their two years at the front.

Committees from each town were organized to work on the fund. The campaign will commence in Exeter Sunday by a meeting at the town hall in the evening. The speakers have not yet been announced.

Firemen Check Blaze on Cook Farm at Kittery.

The Kittery fire department got a call this forenoon to the D. B. Cook farm on the Post road opposite the Bennett school. The fire was started by a lighted cigarette and some grass and the fear that it would spread to a serious extent caused an alarm from box 35. The department kept it confined to a small space and prevented it from getting in acres of standing grass nearby. The damage was slight.

OBITUARY

Edward J. Dorsey

Edward Jefferson Dorsey died Sunday afternoon, October 21, very suddenly of heart trouble at his home at Fort Fairfield. He had been playing with one of his grandchildren, when suddenly he complained of not feeling well and lay down. He seemed to be unconscious for a few moments, then gasped once or twice and all was over.

The funeral was held at the late home at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning, Rev. D. M. Weller, rector of the Episcopal church of Caribou, an old friend of the family, officiating. Some beautiful music was given by St. Paul's choir. Most of the business houses of Fort Fairfield were closed during the funeral.

The floral offerings were very numerous and beautiful, testifying to the devotion that a lifetime of kindness to all had instilled into the minds of hosts of friends.

Among those attending the funeral from a distance were: Mrs. Mary E. Martin of Portsmouth, N. H., the only surviving sister; William B. Perrier, Halifax, N. S.; Eugene M. Smith and family, Mars Hill; Jerome McLaughlin and family, Limestone; Thomas McShea, Presque Isle.

The pallbearers were six of the directors of the Frontier Trust Company, old associates in that capacity of Mr. Dorsey who had long been a director of the company. They were: H. T. Powers, P. H. Reed, D. H. Boyd, C. H. Stone, C. W. Perry and G. H. Churchill.

Interment was made in Riverside cemetery.

Mr. Dorsey was born in Fort Fairfield, April 2, 1851, the son of the late Edward Dorsey and Hannah A. Doyle. Practically all his life was spent in Fort Fairfield. About 1875, in company with his brother, Miles P. Dorsey, Mr. Dorsey entered the mercantile business in Fort Fairfield. He continued in this business until 1885 when the partnership was dissolved, he taking the lively stable which the Dorsey brothers then owned, and his brother taking the store which he ran for a few years afterwards. This lively stable was run by Mr. Dorsey to the time of his death.

Mr. Dorsey was married June 12, 1881, to Miss Alice M. Webb, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David M. Webb of Fort Fairfield, who died in October, 1894, at the age of 32 years.

The six children born of this union, all of whom survive and who have their homes in Fort Fairfield are: Newman E. Grover, Helen Fenne (now Mrs. William E. Perrier), Webb, Dwight W., and Miss Alice Maude.

In addition to the children, Mr. Dorsey is survived by a sister, Mrs. Martha of Portsmouth, as mentioned elsewhere, and by three brothers: Miles P. and John S. of Fort Fairfield and Michael N. of Dover. Mention should also be made of Miss Effie J. Everett, who was housekeeper in the home a few years before Mrs. Dorsey died and has been in that position for nearly a quarter of a century, showing the same interest and devotion that most women show in their own families.

Leon Clinton Webber

Leon Clinton Webber died in Manchester at the home of his brother, Nelson L. Webber, 60 George street, on Thursday evening shortly before 9 o'clock. He was 26 years old and was born in Wells, Me., the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alice P. Webber. He was a moulder by trade and prior to going to Manchester about a year ago, had worked on the Portsmouth navy yard. He was a member of Riverside Lodge, No. 72, I. O. O. F., of Kittery. Besides his parents, he is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Chester A. Caswell and Mrs. Ray W. Hersey of Kittery; three brothers, Nelson L. Webber of Manchester, Moses R. and James T. Webber of Kittery and his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Moses Webber of Ogunquit, Me. The body will be brought to Kittery for services and interment.

RED TRIANGLE FUND CAMPAIGN STARTED

Meeting for Organization at Army and Navy Home.—Burroughs Present.

A very successful mass meeting was held on Thursday evening at the Army and Navy Home on Daniel street, to arrange for the campaign next week of the Red Triangle (Y. M. C. A.) to secure this city's apportionment of the $35,000,000 which it is sought to raise in this country to keep the work up for the next nine months.

The meeting was attended by about a hundred prominent men of this city and the surrounding towns and previous the meeting, supper was served. Mayor Samuel T. Ladd presided and after explaining the object of the meeting and expressing a hope that this city would raise its full quota, as it has in everything that has been connected with this great war, he introduced Congressman Sherman E. Burroughs of Manchester.

Mr. Burroughs at first explained what had been done at the meeting in Manchester to arrange for the state organization and the fact that the state had been divided into districts and the work started.

He spoke of the great need of this work that is being done for the soldiers not only at the front and in the camps in this country, but also for the men who are in France where the Y. M. C. A. has followed the men to the very front line trenches. To provide comfort and that touch of home for the men, when they have any leisure time. He told of the wonderful work that is being done by the state organization at Manchester by Sergeant Guy Empey, the author of the most successful of the war stories, because it is the plain and unadorned experience of the author himself in his long service with the British forces in France.

He quoted Empey in his statement that the men who are being sent over from this country could not win the war alone, that in his opinion make up only about forty per cent of what is necessary, the other sixty per cent is furnished by the people who are left at home, and he considered that one of the ways was to provide the necessary funds to keep this great work up. He said that Mr. Empey unqualifiedly endorsed the work of the Red Triangle in the war front and said that it was one of the best means of keeping the men at the front.

Mr. Burroughs said that the flower of the manhood of the United States was being sent to the front and it was essential that every means be taken to keep them clean in mind and body so that they may return a credit to themselves and their families.

Mr. Burroughs urged everybody to do their part in this great work. It was just as essential as any of the great war work "when you give your money to keep up the morale of the men at the front you do the greatest work to win the war."

Mr. Burroughs was followed by Mr. Harold T. Chase a Y. M. C. A. worker who is in charge of the state of New Hampshire during this campaign. He devoted his time to explaining the work that is being done and the great need of funds as the work has increased. He spoke of what was being done at Camp Devens which is nearer home and of the great need of the work being extended. He said that the government had made four drafts upon the country, the first the man power; second, the money power; third, the Red Cross which sought to look after the health and physical care of the men; and fourth, the Red Triangle (Y. M. C. A.) the Knights of Columbus and the Recreation Committee, all engaged in the great work of providing for the human side of the soldier.

He maintained that the fourth was just as important as any of the others for upon it depends in a great measure the success of the first which is the man power. He said that the success of the first which is the man power, depends upon the success of the fourth which is the Red Triangle.

Col. John H. Bartlett was the last speaker and he devoted his time to the plans that had been made to the campaign. He explained that the quota for this district which includes Portsmouth and some forty towns, is $30,000 or 75¢ per head. In this city the quota is the same of course as the district that is 75¢ per head or at the rate of 12,000 people, $9,000.

He explained that there were delegates from the various towns and that an organization would be effected in each town to secure that town's quota. He also called attention to the mass meeting which will be held Sunday evening at the Colonial theatre when special speakers will be heard.

Following the speaking an organization was perfected, with Mayor Ladd Chairman, and E. Curtis Matthews, Secretary and Charles P. Shillaber Treasurer.

An executive committee consisting of Mayor Ladd, Rev. L. H. Thayer, D. D., and Mr. D. V. Northwick, have power to choose a campaign manager and such other committees as they think proper.

The campaign committee is: Mayor Ladd, chairman; Dr. E. S. Towle, Hon. D. W. Badger, R. C. Dickey, H. P. Payne, Judge E. L. Gault, C. P. Shillaber, Maj. F. W. Hartford, Charles H. Walker, W. C. Condon, John R. Bates, G. B. Chadwick, F. M. Sise, W. L. Hill, U. S. N., Chaplain Scott, U. S. N., Secretary Forgrave, F. C. Denick, D. V. Northwick and E. Curtis Matthews.

The committee is to be known as the Red Triangle War Fund Campaign committee of Portsmouth and the campaign manager will be announced later.

A meeting of the committee is to be held this afternoon at five o'clock at the Y. M. C. A. building.

SAVE YOUR HAIR! A SMALL BOTTLE STOPS DANDRUFF

Every bit of dandruff disappears and hair stops coming out.

Try this! Your hair appears glossy, abundant, wavy and beautiful.

Thin, brittle, colorless and scraggy hair is mute evidence of neglected scalp; of dandruff; that awful scourge.

There is nothing so destructive to the hair as dandruff. It robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life; eventually producing a feverishness and itching of the scalp, which if not remedied causes the hair roots to shrink, loosen and die—then the hair falls out fast. A little Danderine tonight—now—any time—will surely save your hair.

Get a small bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter for a few cents, and after the first application your hair will take on that life, lustre and luxuriance which is so beautiful. It will become wavy and fluffy and have the appearance of abundance, an incomparable gloss and softness; but what will please you most will be after just a few weeks' use, when you will actually see a lot of fine, downy hair—new hair—growing all over the scalp.

Danderine is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them. Its exhilarating and life-producing properties cause the hair to grow long, strong and beautiful.

PREPARE BATTLEFIELD ON PIAVE

London, Nov. 8.—Another tremendous effort on the part of Italy to stem the German invasion was apparently impending today. Both the enemy and defending lines have been drawn face to face along the Livorno river. London expected momentarily to learn of the preliminary battle of the Livorno, in which German's rear guards would attempt to administer a temporary check to the enemy before withdrawing to the new, fully prepared Piave river line.

Swiss dispatches reported that Cadorna intended merely to delay the enemy along the Livorno, and would not bring his full strength into the battle until the Piave positions were reached. For nearly two weeks the Italians have been preparing their positions along this waterway. Presumably the re-enforcements in men and guns sent by British and French army staffs are held along this line.

Every dispatch received from Rome today mentioned the Italian withdrawal from the Tagliamento as voluntary, carried out with precision and a minimum of loss. Certainly there was none of the precipitancy in the latest Italian retreat that characterized the rout from the Isonzo positions.

Prisoners Taken in French Raids
Paris, Nov. 8.—"During the night we made two surprise attacks, one on the enemy trenches east of Rheims, the other in the Woëvre east of Neuilly, and brought back prisoners," says today's official statement.

"In upper Alsace, the attack which we made yesterday on the German positions at Schoenholz, it is now learned caused the enemy to suffer heavy losses. The number of prisoners captured by us has reached 121, of whom two are officers. Important materials, which we have thus far not been able to enumerate, fell into our hands.

"There is nothing to report from the remainder of the front."

Germany Masses Big Warship Fleet.
Stockholm, Nov. 8.—A large German squadron of warships is off the Finnish naval station of Helsingfors. The report comes from Haparanda. Presumably Germany has resumed her naval drive in the Baltic and is about to attack the Russian naval fortifications at Sveaborg, guarding Helsingfors.

When the German fleet was operating in the Bay of Riga, Russian dispatches reported in view of the likelihood of German sea attacks in the Baltic, that Reval, Sveaborg and Kronstadt were to be evacuated of civilians (Reval was evacuated also of all military forces, and practically abandoned to the enemy because of the threat of a thrust from the rear after German troops had been landed on Wierder peninsula. Then Germany apparently withdrew these forces.

Sveaborg is a naval fortification of the first class.

THE UNBORN CHILD AN IMMENSE SUCCESS.

A Wonderful Play Handled in a Wonderful Manner.

A capable company of people every member of the cast a finished artist, presented the play yesterday afternoon and last evening at the Colonial Theatre. The story is that which throws a light on birth control, it is a true story of life, the topic is handled in a delightfully delicate and most artistic manner that even the most severe and rigid critic is bound to acknowledge.

knowledge as a powerful moral lesson to the rising generation and a strong plea for that which is most sacred to all Christian people—Motherhood.

The principle character is Laurette Allen in the character of the sweet old Irish mother, her great fortitude, mother-love and supreme sacrifice, forgiven as she does the most grievous offense demonstrating that great mother love, moved the big audiences to tears and then to laughter, perhaps never in the history of dramatic performances in Portsmouth was a more genuine sympathetic scene enacted as when the climax of the play is reached, and it was not exaggerating when he says, there was not a dry eye in the big house who witnessed the performance last evening.

The play is clean—the language of the play is absolutely free and divorced from the slightest suggestion of offensive material, those if there may be any who attended the performances expecting anything else, must have been taught a most striking lesson of the value of virtue.

It is only regretted that Portsmouth cannot have more of just this sort of production, especially at this time when so many of our youth are away from home influences and environments.

BRITISH FORCES ADVANCE THIRTY MILES UPSTREAM

(By Associated Press)

London, Nov. 8.—The occupation of Ramadjo has carried the British Mesopotamian army some thirty miles upstream from its previous outpost at Beldja. This is the distance measured as the crow flies, but it is nearly double that distance by the winding Euphrates. The British convoys, although moving by day, pass each other in the darkness of a London fog, and the white dust which covers the faces of the Arabian porters gives them the appearance of a cloud of steam.

On the right bank of the Euphrates the flat alluvial soil of the delta is left behind and one comes to the first low dunes and pebbly ridges, which the roads are better and easier. It was on ground of this nature that the battle of Ramadjo was fought.

The British troops showed themselves in excellent condition, after their long march, being put through a two day manoeuvre battle after a night march. The heat, however, was longer oppressive. The nights are now fresh and cold and the health of the force is excellent.

When the British forces entered Ramadjo, they found many signs of the confusion and surprise of the Turkish forces. The British eye-witness, writing from Ramadjo, says: "A deep gully west of the town was strewn with miscellaneous litter for half a mile, including pack saddles, furniture, books, suit cases and office paraphernalia. Forty horses and baggage animals have been collected and some thirty camels.

AMERICAN ADMIRAL IS ENTERTAINED

(By Associated Press)

Peking, Nov. 8.—Admiral Austin M. Knight, the new commander-in-chief of the American Asiatic fleet, was extensively entertained by Chinese officials and the American colony on the occasion of his recent visit here. President Feng Kuo-chang, who is still in mourning for his wife, received the admiral and Mr. Reisch, in private audience and discussed the war situation with them. Admiral Lu Kuang-hsing, the minister of the navy, entertained at a dinner for Admiral Knight and escorted him through the national museum. The minister for foreign affairs, Wang Ta-shieh, gave a dinner at the foreign office for the American admiral which was attended by all the cabinet members and many representatives of the diplomatic corps.

Admiral Knight was also the guest of honor at a dinner given by the American association of North China, which was attended by over one hundred American men. Mr. Reisch, the American minister, gave several dinners for the admiral, who was his guest and made it possible for him to meet all prominent Chinese officials.

MANY BUILDINGS DAMAGED BY BOMBARDMENTS

(By Associated Press)
Paris, Nov. 8.—More than 50,000 buildings have been demolished in France and more than 100,000 more or less damaged by bombardment or incendiary fires during the war, according to statistics completed up to the end of May. Sixty-three buildings classed as historical monuments had been destroyed. The total number of communes that had suffered from the invasion was 1223.

DECLARES SMALL TRIAL WAS UNFAIR

Concord, N. H., Nov. 8.—Arguing before the state supreme court today, William S. Matthews of Somersworth, counsel for Frederick L. Small of Ossipee, under sentence of death for wife murder, asserted Small did not have "that fair trial guaranteed by the law." He questioned the competency of technical evidence submitted by the state at the trial, said the exhibition of the head of Mrs. Small to the jury "tended only to inflame the minds of the jurymen," and criticized the language of Atty. Gen. James P. Tuttle in his argument at the trial. Mr. Matthews contended Small should have been acquitted on the ground of insufficient evidence. Atty. Gen. Tuttle replied this afternoon.

The body of Mrs. Small was found in the ruins of her home near Ossipee Sept. 28, 1916, several hours after Small himself had left home for Boston.

GET PROFIT ON HIGH PRICED COAL

(By Associated Press)
Washington, Nov. 8.—Thousands of tons of coal were released by the order today which will permit the jobbers and retailers to sell at a profit the coal that they purchased at advance figures.

FOOD FOR SERBIAN PRISONERS

Washington, Nov. 8.—Enormous quantities of American food are on the way today to Austria.

The American government knows about it. It is, in fact, glad of it. Did, in fact, permit it to be sent and went to considerable trouble to arrange a routing so it would be sure to get there.

The shipment now on route, which will be followed by others to the value of at least $500,000, is 5000 sacks of perfectly good American flour. Other foodstuffs and clothing will be sent on to Austrian territory just as fast as the American government can get it there.

The food and clothing, however, are not going to Austrian subjects, but to Serbian prisoners of war, in Austrian prison camps. Concerning the shipments, the American Red Cross said today:

"As part of the Red Cross program for aid to Serbia, which has been undertaken in co-operation with the Serbian government, the Red Cross has just shipped 5000 bags of flour to Serbians in Austrian prison camps.

"This is the first shipment of a series of food purchases which the Red Cross, in co-operation with the Serbian government, is making in this country for relief of prisoners. The Serbian minister has deposited $300,000 to the credit of the Red Cross for the purchase of these foodstuffs.

"The allies must provide living necessities for their soldiers who are captured, because the central powers are not providing prisoners of war with sufficient food to keep them in good health. By arrangement with Germany and Austria, prisoners are permitted to receive extra rations and clothing from their home governments. Lack of supplies in Europe has forced Serbia to buy in the United States.

"The shipments go to the Serbian consul at Marseilles, and thence through the Serbian section of the Bureau de Secours at Rome, Switzerland, to prison camps in Austria.

"The American Red Cross now has a special commission in Serbia, headed by Cordell Arnold Severance of St. Paul, Minn. The ravages of war there are said to have been even worse than in Belgium and Roumania and many Serbian refugees have been entirely dependent upon America for relief. Next to Belgium and France, Serbia has been the chief center of American relief work abroad."

London, Nov. 8.—St. John Horner's mansion at Melles Park, which has been partly destroyed by fire was the "plum" which gave rise originally to the familiar rhyme about "Little Jack Horner."

The poem was written as a piece of poetical doggerel. At the time of the dissolution of a certain John Horner, was steward of the great Abbey of Glastonbury, and with the dissolution of the monasteries he secured his "plum," the Manor of Melles. Since that time the eldest son of the Horner family has always been named John.

Peking, Nov. 8.—Chang Chen-fang, a cousin of the late Yuan Shih-kai and a multi-millionaire, was sentenced by the supreme court of China to a life term in prison for participation in the efforts of Chung Hsuan to restore the Manchou emperor to the throne. Chang Chen-fang, held many offices under Yuan Shih-kai. He was acting military governor of Chihli and Honan Provinces. In addition to his life sentence he was also fined $100 for smoking opium.

Paris, Nov. 8.—The dyes for the horizon blue uniforms of the French army substituted for the old dark blue and red since the war began, have been furnished by a German firm, according to the Quatre France. The matter, with which the material for the famous red trousers of the French infantry were dyed had long before the war been replaced by German aniline dyes, but it was not suspected until lately that the Germans could be interested in the horizon blue dye that has been furnished by a house in Basel, Switzerland, with a name that was partly of a French and partly of a German consonance. The Quatre France also now declares that all the rights and patents of that firm have been owned for a long time by a firm in Berlin.

SET FIRE TO COVER THEFT

Charlotte, N. C., Nov. 8.—Tabney Trenshaw, 30, a former student at the University of Virginia, admitted while on trial today that he had stolen a large amount of platinum from the laboratories at the University and then set fire to the building in order to cover up his theft. The case is still in session.

"SHOW OF WONDERS"

It is with pardonable pride that the management of the Shubert Theatre, Boston, announces the engagement of the "Show of Wonders," the big Winter Garden wonder show, said to be the greatest girl, fun and music show ever produced on the American stage, now at that theatre for a limited engagement. The second big week begins next Monday, November 12th.

This huge extravaganza, the twentieth of its kind to be produced by the famous New York Temple of laughter and song, has been most fittingly named the "Show of Wonders," for it is a truly wonderful show. Cast, scenic equipment, costumes, comedy and music are all the very acme of theatrical perfection, while the magnitude of this mammoth extravaganza makes one marvel at the extremes of modern theatrical splendor.

And as for cast, one marvels how a producer can pay the combined salaries of such a pretentious stellar aggregation as the one handling the principal roles of the "Show of Wonders." These include such names as conjura wira as George Monroe, Eugene and Willie Howard, Marilyn Miller, Tom Lewis, Sidney Phillips, White and Clayton, Ernest Hare, Dan Quinlan, Edmund Mahaffy, Arthur Davis, Edmund Mahaffy, Adela Ardley, Patsy O'Hearn, Virginia Smith, Myrtle Victorine and Irene Zolar. And there is a chorus! Such a chorus!

READY FOR AMERICAN WOUNDED

Washington, Nov. 8.—With American wounded being actually carried back from the fighting front, Surgeon General Gorgas' office today declared itself equipped and ready to rebuild our human battle wreckage into able-bodied men.

The string of declamation hospitals extends from the French lines to the shores of this country. Every device and resource known to science is at hand to rebuild every human part and organ possible.

Pershing's five wounded and thousands of others will be carried back to life and usefulness from the closing floor of death. Men with half their faces shot away by shrapnel will get new jawbones from their ribs, new noses and new cheeks from the cartilage and tissues of other parts of their bodies.

Plans are being completed for a big base hospital in this country where all totally disabled men will be sent after the European string of hospitals have done all they can for them. In this hospital additional efforts will be made to put them in good shape.

In re-educating the deaf, dumb and blind, they will be sent to private institutions at government expense. Those desiring technical training will be sent to technical schools, others trained for civil service, agricultural work of whatever they choose.

The first hospital was today accepted by the government from the Benevolent Protective Order of Elks. This hospital will be erected on Parker Hill near Robert Brigham Hospital, in Boston, at a cost of $250,000. The money was taken from the Elks' $1,000,000 war relief fund.

London, Nov. 8.—The dyes for the horizon blue uniforms of the French army substituted for the old dark blue and red since the war began, have been furnished by a German firm, according to the Quatre France. The matter, with which the material for the famous red trousers of the French infantry were dyed had long before the war been replaced by German aniline dyes, but it was not suspected until lately that the Germans could be interested in the horizon blue dye that has been furnished by a house in Basel, Switzerland, with a name that was partly of a French and partly of a German consonance. The Quatre France also now declares that all the rights and patents of that firm have been owned for a long time by a firm in Berlin.

FOOD TO BE SAVED AT AYER

(By Associated Press)
Ayer, Mass., Nov. 9.—Strict food conservation measures were issued today. The men who have been abusing the second helping and have left uneaten food in their plates, are to be placed at a separate table and all such food left will be saved and they will be made to eat it at the next meal.

The shortage of sugar was also officially recognized and strict orders given to conserve it.

BE PRETTY TURN GRAY HAIR DARK

TRY GRANDMOTHER'S OLD FAVORITE RECIPE OF SAGE TEA AND SULPHUR

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this famous old recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, at a small cost.

Don't stay gray! Try it! No one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy and attractive.

Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite for those who desire dark hair and a youthful appearance. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

DANISH SEA FISHERIES MORE THAN DOUBLED

(By Associated Press)
Copenhagen, Nov. 7.—The proceeds of the Danish sea fisheries more than doubled during the last year, while the quantity of the catch increased about 40 per cent. The value for last year was nearly $16,000,000.

The number of Danish fishermen is now 19,000, an increase of about 1,000 and the fishing boats number 15,400, valued at $5,000,000.

The Red Cross workers took over the second floor of the Elks' Home Thursday. They will be located there two days each week.

"The Frost is on the Pump- kin and the Fodder's in the Shock"

The hours that you would spend on the front porch will now be whiled away in the living room. You'll have greater opportunities for reading and you'll want to read more. Cooler weather is always conducive to study with old or young—and there are many things of world importance continually happening concerning which we should all keep posted.

There will be books and magazines—to say nothing of the daily papers—and to keep these in order there is nothing quite so essential as a good sized library table. Of course you may have a table and the right kind of a table—a lot of you have already visited Margeson Brothers' store and made that important purchase—but if, by any chance, you are not so fortunate, let us give you a little tip.

Early last Fall and again during the January market of this year we took advantage of the comparatively low prices then ruling, stocked heavily on library tables. Right now we are showing many different designs in oak and mahogany, beautiful tables, high class, refined; not a cheap looking one among them, and the prices are remarkably low.

You know what has happened to raw materials, to labor, to freight deliveries. Isn't it better—far better—to make up your mind today and get that library table from

NORTH HAMPTON WOMAN KILLED ON B. & M. TRACK

Body Found Late Thursday Night By Men While on Way to Fight Fire on Wood Lot

Miss Minnie W. Drake, aged 50, years of North Hampton, was killed early Thursday evening on the Portland division of the Boston and Maine railroad about one-half mile east of the North Hampton railroad station.

Although Miss Drake was killed early in the evening, it was not until the vicinity of eleven o'clock that the body was discovered and then only by accident.

A passing locomotive set fire to a wood lot owned by Joseph O. Hobbs and George Carter, Charles Hatchelder and others went to extinguish the blaze. It was while on the way to the scene of the fire that Mr. Carter discovered the body of Miss Drake lying in a ditch a few feet away from the east bound track.

He promptly notified the town officials and Medical Examiner George P. Pender of this city, who arrived at the scene shortly after midnight. The investigation showed that Miss Drake had been struck by an east bound train and hurled into the ditch, striking heavily on the left side of her head as a ten inch cut in the scalp attested.

Her right leg was fractured and there was a multiple of injuries to cause death. Her effects, including her handbag and household purchases she had made, were scattered along the track for a distance of two hundred feet or more.

After viewing the body, Medical Examiner Pender directed that it be turned over to Undertaker J. Verne Woods to be prepared for burial.

It was learned that Miss Drake had been to Little Bear's Head that afternoon and arrived at the North Hampton station on the 5 o'clock electric car and after making some purchases started for the home of her brother, Henry Drake, about a mile and a quarter from the station. By taking the railroad track she could save quite a walk. It is thought that the approach of the west bound train from Portsmouth attracted her attention and dazed the sound of the east bound train by which she was struck, as the two trains pass near the point where the body was found.

Miss Drake was for many years employed as bookkeeper by Albert Hatchelder at his summer hotel at Little Bear's Head and was well and favorably known by the townspeople. "Portsmouth, N. H., Nov. 8, 1917.

"An Open Letter.

"To the Mayor of the City of Portsmouth:

"Hon. Samuel T. Ladd—Just at this time, when appeals are being made for the War Camp Fund and the entire Nation is justly aroused to the necessity of keeping wholesome and clean the environment of training camps, cantonments and army and navy posts, it would seem most fitting that your attention be called to the posters, advertising, plays and films shown in this city by the Allied Theatres Company of which Col. John H. Bartlett is the first named in the articles of incorporation.

Therefore, we the undersigned committee, composed of women of various church parishes and women's organizations of this city, wish to call to your attention the suggestive posters, advertisements and entertainments of the Allied Theatres Company and respectfully urge that you, either in your capacity as mayor of the city or by the appointment of a suitable and acceptable censor or committee of censors, shall take cognizance of the influence of these places of entertainment, and bring about a change which shall be beneficial alike to the city and to those who are temporarily within our gates.

AUTOMOBILES CRASH

Machines Come Together at Corner of Hanover and Vaughan Streets.

Another auto collision took place at the corner of Hanover and Vaughan streets this morning when a machine owned by the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company crashed into that of the Portsmouth Gas Company. The Gas Company auto was coming down Vaughan street at the time and made an attempt to avoid the crash by turning to the left of the highway. The front part of the telephone auto was considerably damaged but the other machine got away with less injury.

The location is one of the most dangerous for highway traffic in the city and too much care cannot be exercised there. The accident this morning occurred in the same place as that of a recent mixup when a hydrant was wrecked.
